

Gregory Walmsley. For the last three decades Gregory has travelled the world performing a combination of all genres of this glorious art form classical music, Operas, Symphonies, Ballet, and Chamber music in five continents with renowned musicians as Antal Dorati, George Solti, Colin Davis. Simon Rattle, Kurt Masur, Bernard Haitink . After twenty years as a member of the LPO GBW has moved to Berlin with his partner Lauma Skride and their daughter Beatrice Lulu.

He started playing the cello aged 10 and after a few years entered the Royal Academy Junior department. After completing his studies at The Academy of Music in London with Derek Simpson and Lyn Harrell he gained a scholarship to study at Rutgers University in the USA with Bernard Greenhouse.

Future projects involve performing the Bach Cello Suites in the London Eye and Chamber music festivals in Holland and Germany. Gregory plays a unknown Italian cello from Trieste.